

Douglas & Dougal the Headlight Cockroaches

What am I?

Headlight Cockroach (Lucihormetica subcincta)

Where do I live in the wild?

This is a South American species of cockroach, found in Venezuela & Columbia. They love to burrow.

How am I looked after as a pet?

We live in a tank with plenty of coco soil for us to bury ourselves in, places to hide and things to climb on.

What do I eat?

We need protein to keep strong, we love cat biscuits, also oats, fruit and veg.

What do I look like?

We're quite a pretty species of cockroach with a lovely, shiny exoskeleton. The boys have two orange spots that look like car headlights and give us our name.

Why do we love Douglas & Dougal?

Often, people really don't like cockroaches! Douglas & Dougal often help to win them over as they are really quite attractive and also very calm and good for handling.
